

Turn the key! and your Buick is Double-Locked

No lock could be safer! One turn of the key locks both ignition and steering wheel. But merely turning off the ignition does not lock the wheel. You may shut off the engine and coast, if you like, and still have your car under perfect control.

And no lock could be more convenient! It is illuminated and located within easy reach, where the steering column meets the dash.

The Buick double-lock is an exclusive Buick feature—one of many important refinements which characterize Buick for 1928.

Women's Club Opens Promising Year at Meeting on Wednesday

Each month of the year was represented with a table at the opening luncheon of the Women's Club Wednesday. The chairman who will have charge of the club activities during the different months of the year decorated the table representing that month. The January table with its wintery feeling of snow had for its centerpiece snow covered extras which Father Time had opened to let in a small tray after hearing the numerals 1928. This table was the work of Mrs. H. A. Threlkeld, chairman for January. February's table, Mrs. E. E. West, chairman for that month, was gay with red hearts carrying out the Valentine motif. The centerpiece being a basket of greenery on which were red hearts. The place cards were red hearts. March the month so dear to the Irish, carried out the Saint Patrick Day note. Green was to be seen everywhere on this table. Shamrocks were used for place cards. Little pigs were placed here and there on the table wearing green ribbons about their necks. The centerpiece was an old Irishman with his hat and clasp pipe. Mrs. P. A. Huber is to be given credit for this table.

Mrs. Guy Mowry, chairman for April, carried out the Easter thought in the basket of Easter eggs, Easter bunnies, and chickens were scattered about on the table. Bouquets of California poppies were the flowers used on this table.

Mrs. O. W. Hudson turned her table into a May Day party. On either end of the table were small dolls winding the May Pole while a basket of spring flowers decorated the center of the table.

June, the month which from time immemorial has been associated with brides, had a wedding cake for its centerpiece. A miniature bride and groom decorated the cake while over their heads hung a tiny wedding bell. Green and white was the color scheme carried out on this table by Miss S. C. Collins, chairman for June.

As July is one of the months for which there is no committee appointed, Mrs. W. M. Brooks, president of the club, took charge of this table and very patriotically looked with flags in their red, white and blue holders. A giant firecracker was placed in the center of the table. The place cards were decorated with small firecrackers and flags.

Mrs. J. C. Merriam, chairman of August, took charge of the August table and turned it into a summer resort. The centerpiece was a placid pool of water where daintily bathing beauties rested on the sands, under beach umbrellas, and listened to the stories that the sea shells tell. Dainty Japanese parasols were the place cards for this table.

The little red schoolhouse with the children near the door formed the central idea for the September table. Even a small dog was seen near the door as if loath to be parted from his summer play-fellows. The principal was at one end of the table and one of the teachers was at the other. Slates were the place cards at this table.

Mrs. Fred Hansen, chairman of October, and means, had charge of this table. Roses and chrysanthemums were the flowers used on this table.

Mrs. F. L. Parks made the October table gay with bunches of yellow chrysanthemums, yellow pumpkins, black cats and witches carried out the Halloween motif. Yellow pumpkins decorated the place cards.

November brings thoughts of Thanksgiving and autumn. This was the theme worked out by Mrs. W. H. Gilbert for her table. A beautiful fruit of plenty filled with autumn fruits made the centerpiece. Autumn leaves in the tints of red, brown, and gold were placed around it. The place cards carried the idea of Thanksgiving Day.

December, the last month of the year—of course, nothing could be used for this table but Santa Claus and Christmas trees. A Christmas tree with its bright decorations stood in the center of the table. A Santa Claus guarded it at each end with the red and green of the Christmas holiday, giving the color notes. The place cards were Christmas greeting cards. Each guest was placed at the table in which her birthday came and the price of the luncheon was a penny for each year of her age.

Mrs. Brooks gave Lutherman's house blessing, which calls upon a blessing to fall upon all parts of the house.

During the clearing away of the tables, Olive Sherlock of San Pedro and Eunice Woods of Lomita, accompanied by Mrs. J. V. Murray, music chairman, gave violin and cello numbers, "The Merry Callin', Caroline" and "Humoresque."

Other numbers on the program, which was in charge of the music chairman, were vocal numbers by W. W. Mason who sang, "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," and "The Night Wind." Miss Wood gave two cello selections, "Ass Maria" and "The Gypsy Love Song." Mrs. Murray accompanied both of these. Mrs. Murray deserves a great deal of credit for this program, the music being unusually fine.

The various chairmen gave brief accounts of the work of their departments most of which was in the nature of future work except the chairman of Co-operation with War Veterans, Mrs. Caroline Collins who reported the activities of the club in behalf of the Compton. Mrs. Collins asked that the members put aside at least one glass of jelly for a Christmas box to be sent to these men who have been moved to Palo Alto, where they will not get the individual attention given them at Compton.

Four past presidents of the club were present: Mrs. Frank Sammons, Mrs. J. S. Lancaster, Mrs. J. F. Stone and Mrs. E. L. Parks. Mrs. Parks had charge of the luncheon arrangements. Community service, Mrs. Isabel Henderson, will have charge of the meeting for October 19. Mrs. Grace V. Hudson, district chairman of this department, will talk on "Put Unity in Community."

The club activities for October are: Hard Times Dance at the club house on October 21, and a card party Friday afternoon, Oct. 14. The Junior Auxiliary girls plan to furnish the stage this year and are giving a dance Nov. 18, for the benefit of this fund.
